FRENCH EDUCATION ABROAD

2015 - 2016

THE AGENCY FOR FRENCH EDUCATION ABROAD (AEFE)

A PUBLIC BODY

Founded by the act of 6 July 1990, the Agency for French Education Abroad (AEFE) is a Public French administrative body under the supervision of the French Ministry of Foreign Affairs and International Development (MAEDI).

In conjunction with its partners, the AEFE manages and coordinates the network of approved schools, the list of which is determined on an annual basis by a joint ministerial order from the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and International Development and the Ministry of National Education, Higher Education and Research.

As guarantor of the French education system abroad, the AEFE plays a key role in expanding France's cultural diplomacy and serves to boost the appeal of French higher education.

MANAGEMENT, SUPPORT, ADVICE

The AEFE has two offices in Paris and Nantes and, in conjunction with its partners, it coordinates a network of 494 accredited schools, 88 of which are part of the MLF (French Secular Mission).

As part of its educational cooperation mission, the AEFE is the public operator of two additional programs that are implemented alongside its network of accredited schools:

- FLAM (French as a native language): The AEFE provides financial aid to local associations seeking to ensure the French language skills of French children who do not attend an accredited school.
- LABELFRANCÉDUCATION: Created in 2012 as part of the development plan for French education abroad, developed by the French Ministry of Foreign Affairs and International Development in conjunction with the French Ministry of Education, Higher Education and Research, it identifies, recognizes and promotes high-quality foreign schools with national programs that contribute to the development of the French language and Francophone culture.

ACCREDITATION OF SCHOOLS: A GUARANTEE OF QUALITY

The accreditation issued by the French Ministry of National Education, Higher Education and Research certifies the compliance of teaching with the requirements, programs, educational objectives and organizational rules of the French education system.

It allows all pupils from an accredited school to pursue their schooling in any other French school without having to sit for an exam.

The schools are required to periodically justify their compliance with the accreditation criteria (enrollment of both French children and foreign children, preparation of pupils for French exams and diplomas, presence of French tenured staff, etc.).

A PRINCIPLE OF CO-FUNDING

For schools within the remit of the AEFE, the overall budget for 2015 was $1.278 billion. It is based on the principle of co-funding: school fees on the one hand and subsidies allocated by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and International Development on the other.

France is the only country to have created an education system of this scale, abroad, and it receives significant government funding.
